Dear Parents/Carers

The Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS) is the national curriculum that shapes our practice, education and care. As part of the requirements we provide each child and family a key worker. The purpose of a key worker is to build a mutual relationship in which we can work together to enhance your child's experiences with us. By working together and sharing information we can provide learning opportunities that develop your child's interests and help them learn, enjoy and achieve. Each term your key worker will work with you to plan and create opportunities to develop their interests and learning. We thoroughly believe that the key worker system is a partnership, therefore we feel it is important you know about your key worker as well.

Your key worker is Charlie

My name is Charlie and I will be your child's key worker for their time at Abacus Pre-School. I am the manager of Abacus pre-school in Mangotsfield. I have a BA Honours degree in Early Childhood Studies. This helped to deepen my knowledge on education in early years and brain development for 0-5 years. With over 11 years of experience, my expertise lay with early years children where my interests are to support children to become confident, independent learners ready for when they transition to school. I look forward to getting to know your child's interests to support their learning at Abacus pre-school. I will be incorporating my interest in outdoor learning for children and the importance for children to have learning experiences through out their play. I am excited for our journey together. Please do not hesitate to ask any questions.
