

Dear Parents/Carers,

The Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS) is the national curriculum that shapes our practice, education and care. As part of the requirements we provide each child and family with a key worker. The purpose of a key worker is to build a mutual relationship in which we can work together to enhance your child's experiences with us. By working together and sharing information we can provide learning opportunities that develop your child's interests and help them to learn, enjoy and achieve. Each term your key worker will work with you to plan and create opportunities to develop their interests and learning. We thoroughly believe that the key worker system is a partnership, therefore we feel it is important you know about your key worker as well.

Your key worker is

My name is Sam

I started working for Abacus June 2021, and really enjoy my new role. I love to have fun with the children and making the laugh. I will go out of my way to do the best for your child. I have three of my own children and I am a busy working mum. I look forward to getting to know your child.

Yours sincerely
Sam
